ORDER

Daniel Esparza has filed a motion for a continuance in which he asks that the Court continue the trial scheduled for Tuesday, May 4, 2010. Although the Court is not without sympathy for the situation in which Esparza finds himself, the Court does not believe that the interests of justice justify a continuance. The final scheduling order setting this case for trial was entered on July 31, 2009, so Esparza has known of the trial date for several months and has asked for a continuance less than a week before trial. The discovery cutoff and the deadline for filing dispositive motions have passed. Preparation for trial should be substantially complete. Although Esparza has requested that the Court continue the case for 30 to 60 days, it is not practical for the Court to reschedule this case within the next 30 to 60 days. In all likelihood, it would be several months before the Court could reschedule a trial in Jonesboro for this matter, and the Court does not believe that a delay of that magnitude would be fair to the plaintiff, which has pursued the case with diligence. The motion to continue is DENIED. Document #163.

The Court will conduct a pretrial conference at 4:00 p.m. on Monday, May 3, 2010, in the large courtroom in Jonesboro. Counsel are directed to be present and to be prepared to present all motions and arguments that need to be heard and considered before the voir dire panel is assembled on May 4, 2010.

IT IS SO ORDERED this 30th day of April, 2010.
